Présentation de l'éditeur

Resurrected is a multi-layered installation that Roger Ballen created in an abandoned family home deep in the Finnish woods. The entire house was then moved and reassembled at the Serlachius Museum in Finland. Resurrected documents not only the history and construction of this unique edifice, but reveals the aesthetic vision of Ballen where the concrete and abstract, real and imaginary and atypical and archetypal merge into a single poetic space. The publication is made to further study and presents the entire process in essays and photographs and includes Ballens photographs created and taken within the House. Biographie de l'auteur
Biography: Roger Ballen is one of the most important photographers of his generation. He was born in New York in 1950 but for over 33 years he has lived and worked in Johannesburg, South Africa. Ballen has published numerous publications and exhibited internationally. By now Ballen has invented a new hybrid aesthetic in his work but one still rooted firmly in photography.
